PHOTOGRAPHED from the rear and backdropped by Mt. Guiting-Guiting on Sibuyan Island in Romblon, the Princess of the Stars, not quite resting on the seabed but slanting on its belly, has become an ordinary sight for close to two weeks now. But it has not in any way diminished the extraordinary emotions that the sunken ship with well over 800 on board stirs in the heart of the nation. A nation that has been turned upside down by the enormity of its bereavement.

Ferry will be refloated

Operation may take 3 months

By Tarra Quismundo

SAN FERNANDO, SIBUYAN Island—The MV Princess of the Stars will be refloated to pave the way for the safe retrieval of its cargo of toxic pesticide.

Operations on the shipwreck have come to a standstill with the government's decision to refloat the vessel that sank and capsized on June 21 with 850 passengers and crew and a 10,000-kilo cargo of endosulfan on board.

Island flowers were dropped from a hovering Air Force chopper to memorialize the dead as underwater surveyors sent on Sunday to the shipwreck pulled out yesterday morning, along with ships of the Coast Guard.

The vessel's upturned 193-meter hull was confirmed to be resting on a seabed at an angle while listing on its portside, with only between five and 10 meters of its bow on the surface.

The 40-foot container van filled with boxes of endosulfan is believed to be "compressed" in the vessel's starboard rear, among its portions submerged the deepest.

Transportation Undersecretary Elena Bautista confirmed this yesterday and said it was the ship's owner, Sulpi-

PAYBACK TIME And it's about time, too. On Wednesday, Sulpicio Lines begins paying P200,000 for each passenger that went down with the sunken ship. Sulpicio's insurer, Oriental Assurance Corp., says every passenger on the "Princess" was covered by an accident insurance policy. Sulpicio vice president Edgar Go turns over the checks to the bereaved families at the Sulpicio office at North Harbor.

Diesel price to go up ₱7 more a liter

By Abigail L. Ho

CONSUMERS SHOULD BRACE themselves for further increases in fuel prices, as oil firms in the country claim that they have yet to recover at least P7 a liter in losses for diesel alone.

In a presentation yesterday, Edgar Chua, Shell Companies in the Philippines country chair, said the industry was saddled with P7.21 a liter in underrecoveries (the amount that oil firms need to recoup) for the socially sensitive diesel—and that was just for June.

Woman refuses aid: My husband is alive

By Irene R. Sino Cruz
Inquirer Visayas

CEBU CITY—A WOMAN WHOSE husband is among the missing passengers of the MV Princess of the Stars yesterday refused financial aid from President Macapagal-Arroyo and said the search operations should continue.

"My husband is still alive," Daisy Oleo, 21, said she told the President in reply to the latter's expression of condolence. Oleo, who was among the 50 family members selected to receive financial aid directly from Ms Arroyo, did not accept the P10,000 handed to her.

She said she also told Ms Arroyo that "money could not pay for the life" of her husband, Angelo Oleo, 35.

According to Oleo, it is too painful for her to accept that her husband of less than two years will never come home.

She said her husband was a seaman who worked on foreign ships plying

Sulpicio cargo ships to sail anew with 'safety marshals'

By Michael Lim Ubac

THE GOVERNMENT WILL FIELD "safety marshals" onboard the cargo vessels of Sulpicio Lines that will start operating as early as today to and from Manila, Cebu and other cities, Malacañang yesterday said.

The marshals will come from the Coast Guard and its auxiliary groups composed of retired Marine officers and personnel of the Maritime Industry Authority (Marina).

"By [today], I hope this could happen already with some government officials going with the cargo (on board the Sulpicio-operated ships)," Executive Secretary Eduardo Ermita said at a press briefing.

Ermita said President Macapagal-Arroyo had given the go-signal for Sulpicio Lines, owner of the sunken MV Princess of the Stars, to resume its cargo handling operations. (The ban on Sulpicio ships to set sail took effect

Rough sailing for Pagasa chief at marine inquiry

By Leila B. Salaverria

THE CHIEF OF THE WEATHER BUreau yesterday parried questions from Sulpicio Lines Inc. at the Board of Marine Inquiry (BMI) hearing, and repeatedly claimed that he was there only as a resource person.

Speaking at the inquiry into the cause of the sinking of the MV Princess of the Stars off Romblon at the height of Typhoon "Frank," Dr. Prisco Nilo, director of the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration, said Pagasa's bulletins included information on the possible deviations in the typhoon's path.

Danes world's happiest; Pinoys 38th

WASHINGTON—DENMARK, WITH its democracy, social equality and peaceful atmosphere, is the happiest country in the world, researchers said on Monday.

Zimbabwe, torn by political and social strife, is the least happy, while the world's richest nation, the United States, ranks 16th.

The Philippines ranks 38th, just behind France (37) and also trailing other Southeast Asian nations Thailand (27), Singapore (31), Malaysia (34) and Vietnam (36). Japan placed 43rd and China, 54th.

Overall, the world is getting happier, according to the US government-funded World Values Survey, which is done regularly by a global network of social scientists.

The survey found increased happiness from 1981 to 2007 in 45 of 52 countries analyzed.

Goodbye Lipo, Hello Ultrashape!

Ultrashape – Lipo Without The Suction – continues to make waves since Marie France launched it in Manila two years ago. Proven effective, it has become the preferred solution of most women who have fat deposits that refuse to budge, regardless of how much they diet or exercise. Clients who have tried it were so amazed with how effectively it has reshaped their tummy, lovehandles and saddlebags, minus the risks, side-effects and "downtime" they would normally endure with surgical options.

Ultrashape is the clinically proven non-invasive breakthrough for fat reduction and body contouring. It uses ultrasound waves to break down and liquefy fat even in stubborn areas. Ultrashape destroys fat cells permanently without affecting skin tissues. Immediately following treatment, the body's natural processes clear away the destroyed fat cells – and they don't come back! The result: smooth, even and shapely curves you can flaunt – even without your clothes on!

Renowned French plastic surgeon Dr. Benjamin Ascher recently presented his Ultrashape clinical results at the International Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgery (ISAPS) Annual Meeting in Melbourne, Australia. His latest study demonstrated preliminary results of a 5.5 cm. circumferential reduction after only two treatments.

Due to its great success, Marie France clients' demand for Ultrashape is high, resulting to a nearly fully booked schedule for this revolutionary method of body contouring. These clients have found a better alternative to liposuction!

Blazers seize solo lead; Cardinals bounce back

CHUCK Philip Dalanon and the St. Benilde Blazers run over Franz Dizon of the Perpetual Help Altas in yesterday's NCAA game at the Cuneta Astrodome.

By Godoff P. Tapas

ALL THIS WINNING IS BEGINNING TO feel a little unaccustomed for last year's cellar-dweller College of St. Benilde.

Two games into the current NCAA season, the Blazers surpassed their forgettable 1-11 record in the 2007 season with a 61-54 victory over the Perpetual Help Altas yesterday at the Cuneta Astrodome in Pasay City.

The second straight win installed the Blazers, the 2000 champions, as the unlikely pacesetters.

"It's an unfamiliar position, but we're happy," said St. Benilde coach Ceo Mendilla, who took over just four months ago. "We didn't expect to be in this position. There was a time when we had 10 players in one position."

In the second game, Mapua held off a late San Sebastian surge for an 80-70 decision in a mighty comeback from a 29-point beating from defending champion San Beda last week.

"There's something wrong with our mindset, so this win is very important to us," Mapua coach Leo Isaac said.

Five threes by Allen Mangahas, Nell Pascual and Mark Tamayo ...

... 18-point lead to a mere within two, 78-80, in the final 1:30.

The Blazers broke away from a 52-all deadlock in the final four minutes as Archie David and Jeff Marial drained crucial baskets to end the misery that followed up their 58-62 slipping of Philippine Christian University in the opener Saturday.

After Angelo Alvarez's game-tying three, David atoned for his five turnovers by burying a triple with 2:16 left for a 57-52 cushion.

"We couldn't execute well in the first three quarters, but the team showed a lot of heart in the final period," Mendilla added.

Altas center Bally Tuton sliced the Blazers' lead with an undergoal stab, 59-56, but Gerry Seville found a wide open Marial for an easy lay-up with 30 seconds remaining for the win.

Skipper Jacob Manigsoy had 14 points and six rebounds for the Blazers.

Earlier, a shorthanded San Sebastian squad cruised to a second win for the solo lead in the juniors division with Arvie Bringas outscoring the entire Malayan High School in a 119-25 rout.

Bringas finished with 29 points.

Spain tags US as Olympic hoops favorite

GASOL

MADRID, Spain—Spain began its preparation for the Olympic Games on Tuesday by giving the United States squad—with its NBA-filled roster—the tag of pre-tournament favorite despite an eight-year drought at major championships.

The United States boasts a roster of NBA all-stars including Kobe Bryant, LeBron James, Jason Kidd, and Dwyane Wade. But American players have failed to capitalize on its talent since the 2000 Sydney Games—its last gold medal-winning performance.

"Kobe Bryant has told me that he wants to win the gold as much as I do," Spain center Pau Gasol said. "I think his team can fight for the gold, but we'll prepare to arrive there strong and we'll see what happens."

Spain believes the Americans have learned from their disappointments, which include a bronze medal at the Athens Games four years ago.

"With Mike D'Antoni in the coaching team they can overcome the problems of past championships because he is a trainer who has been in Europe," coach Aito Garcia Reneses said. "A lot of times you got the feeling that they didn't know more than the basketball that they practiced in their own country."

The 15 players gathered in the Spanish capital to start five weeks of preparations for the Aug. 8 to 23 Games in Beijing, where the Iberians will go in as one of the favorites alongside the Americans, European champion Russia and defending champion Argentina.

Los Angeles Lakers center Gasol recently added an NBA title to his resume but recently lost to the Boston Celtics in the finals. The 27-year-old center is still feeling the effects of his longest season in a seven-year NBA career and will be given a few extra days rest.

"It's been a long season. I've never had to go so long and the truth is you feel it," Gasol said.

Spain plays warmup matches against Croatia, Portugal and Argentina in the coming weeks. It also will face Russia on July 20 for the first time since losing the Eurobasket final on home soil in September.

Former Toronto Raptors forward Jorge Garbajosa, who had surgery on his left leg and ankle in December, expects to be fully healed and available to the team in time for the Olympics. AP

NBA hires US Army general to supervise referee operations

NEW YORK—The National Basketball Association hired US Army Brig. Gen. Ronald L. Johnson on Tuesday as senior vice president of referee operations, a newly created position to help strengthen the league's officiating programs following the gambling scandal involving one of its refs.

The move splits executive vice president of basketball operations Stu Jackson's role into two positions, under commissioner David Stern announced and Mr. Johnson will oversee all aspects of officiating, while Jackson will continue to handle all other domestic and international basketball matters.

Johnson recently retired after 32 years of service as a combat engineer. He was commanding general of the US Army Corps of Engineers, Gulf Region division, from 2003-04, responsible for overseeing $18 billion of reconstruction in Iraq. AP
